SCHOOL REPORT.

TO THE CITIZENS OF AUBURN:

The school board respectfully present the following report for the year ending March 1, 1891. Number of schools, 7; names enrolled, 134; number of pupils who have attended school not less than two weeks, 131; boys, 58; girls, 73.

We have employed nine different teachers, five of whom had taught in town previously with good success. Of the four that were new to us we have been disappointed in one. Twenty-two weeks constituted the school year, but Miss Richardson of No. 2 school left at the end of the eleventh week of the fall term, to accept a good position elsewhere. For reasons known to those interested, Miss Yeaton taught in No. 7 only nine weeks of the fall term.

Much good work has been done, and some schools have a better standing than last year. The old idea that pupils must go over so many pages whether they are learned or not, has given way to a thoroughness that is very satisfactory. We have pupils in mind who have a perfect understanding of their studies. The classes in Colburn's arithmetic and Kellogg's physiology in the Bunker Hill and No. 6 schools are worthy of mention.

The new school house in No. 4 was completed in time for the school to commence May 19. We consider the building substantial, and the school room pleasant and convenient. The school has manifested interest by purchasing therefor a clock and an excellent globe.

Although the expense of furnishing free text-books may seem large, we feel justified in saying that it could not have been reasonably less. The books have been purchased directly from the publishers at low prices, numbered, marked as town property, and loaned to the pupils, who have been responsible for their careful use; every book has been accounted for, and all except a few primary readers returned in good condition. We wish to express our thanks to pupils for their painstaking in this respect. Where classes were to be formed or promoted, we have used the new Franklin readers, in view of a gradual introduction of the same, as the cost of the new series is no more than Lippincott's, now in use. Harper's geographies now take the place of the different kinds heretofore used, except where classes were supplied with Swinton's.

The spirit of patriotism is not lacking in Auburn. Four schools, viz: the village, Bunker Hill, Nos. 2 and 4, through the efforts of teachers and pupils, readily aided by citizens, at the close of the summer term proudly flung the stars and stripes to the breeze. Thus our pupils, by a joint ownership of their school flag, are learning to love and protect our national emblem.

As a people (by your cooperation and support) you have given the town school system a fair trial. During our connection with the school board no opposition has arisen to seriously interfere with what we considered the best arrangement, under existing circumstances, for all concerned. Therefore the board acknowledges its responsibility for the present standing of the schools.

The average length of the school year for the five years has been 22 3-5 weeks. We find by the statistical table of the last report under the district system that the average number of weeks for the eight schools was 18 2-9 weeks.

There is a tendency for our boys and girls to leave school before the age of sixteen. We have had only eight enrolled above that age the past year, the majority of whom were in school only a few weeks. If we could have one school in winter of grammar grade, where pupils from different parts of the town could attend, they would go forth to the duties of life better qualified to become useful and intelligent citizens. Therefore we recommend for your consideration the maintaining of such a school.

HENRY P. WOOD,
WILLIAM G. BROWN,
FRANCES A. GRIFFIN,

School Board of Auburn.
